Palm Springs Style says:

Memorial Day weekend is here, and we've rounded up some fun options for spending the holiday weekend in Palm Springs!

Don't miss the annual Memorial Day event at the Palm Springs Air Museum on Monday, May 30, where a vintage B-25 Bomber will drop 3,000 red and white carnations from the sky over the museum's tarmac, with the flower drop serving to honor and memorialize all veterans who lost their life defending the United States. The white carnations are in honor of those who fought in WWI, WWII, Korea and Vietnam, and the red carnations are in honor of those who died in more recent conflicts including the Persian Gulf, Desert Storm, Iraq and Afghanistan. More information here. www.palmspringsairmuseum.org (745 N. Gene Autry Trail, Palm Springs)

The new V Palm Springs hotel is kicking off on Memorial Day weekend with La "V" en Rosé, a new pool party series that will continue every Saturday throughout the summer. On Saturday, May 28 & Sunday May 29th from 12– 7 PM, locally-based Coachella alum DJ Alf Alpha will open for Ibiza-based, legendary Frenchman, DJ Richard Grey. On Saturday, the musical vibe will be upbeat, Saint Tropez style in the spirit of European summer fun, with a low-key poolside vibe on Sunday. Enjoy cabana bottle service, pool volleyball and fun vintage board games, complemented by delectable food and cocktails crafted by Elixir Pool Bar & Grill, the hotel's new hotspot. www.vpalmsprings.com (333 E. Palm Canyon Drive)

Hit City U.S.A. have teamed up with Wine Not! for two days of poolside Dionysian bliss at Ace Hotel & Swim Club.
